

Providing Software Products Since 1987

Clinical Software Solutions has been in the business of producing software products for the clinical environment since 1987. Our specialty is meeting your needs by offering practical solutions to common clinical problems.

We provide standard as well as custom software development and programming to meet your exact specifications. Computer scientists having clinical backgrounds write our software programs. We understand the problems in the clinical environment and will help you arrive at a configuration that fits your needs.

Qualified personnel perform installation of the software and training while on site at your facility. We provide telephone and on-line technical support as part of our standard service agreement.

Please see additional features outlined in the attached brochure. Call us today at 800-570-0474 to schedule a web demo or site survey or visit us on line at www.clin1.com. We can help you accomplish your goals for an easy to use, cost effective system with our clinical software products.

Clinical Software Solutions offers integrated as well as stand-alone systems for:

Clinical Software Solutions has been around for a while and will continue to do so. Our staff is big in product knowledge, technology, ingenuity, and solutions while our products are easy to use, innovative, flexible and client driven.

Our original product was a microbiology application introduced in 1987. By 1988 it had evolved into a full-blown laboratory information system called The Connection. In the mid 1990's we converted our LIS into our windows version CSSWIN to keep abreast of technology and meet our clients growing needs. As the industry grew, our products grew to keep up with the demands of our clients always maintaining the integrity of the products to meet and exceed the industry standards. CLIN1 Suite was introduced in 2005 to meet an ever-increasing demand for a full line of products to meet the clinical solution for the rural hospital environment without the extreme costs.

Although designed for small to midsize facilities, the products are robust and flexible enough to be used in any size facility. Our products are used in a range of environments from Research, Reference, POL, and Hospital facilities. We understand the clinical environment and can help you configure a 'best fit' solution for your facility.
